DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The proposed drawing correction is not approved, since it would create objection to the specification, e.g., "brief description of the drawings", however the amended specification negates the drawing objection, for the machine direction is shown in Fig. 5.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-18 and 19-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Martin et al., US Patent No. 5,707,409.

Martin et al. discloses all the limitations of the claims (incorporated US Patents, 5,201,916, 4,842,937 and 4,992,082).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3723

3. Claims 1-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stoetzel, Patent No. 5,928,394 in view of Martin et al, US Patent No. 5707,409.

Stoetzel discloses all the limitations of claims 1 and 20, i.e., an abrasive article (10) comprising a backing (11) an abrasive coating consisting essentially of a harden binder comprising a plurality of precisely-shaped protrusions (14) (free of abrasives, col. 6, lines 14-17), except for disclosing the diamond-like carbon coating. Martin et al. teaches an abrasive article having a diamond like coating layer (48). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to modify the article of Stoetzel with diamond-like coating as taught by Martin et al. to improve cutting performance, depending on the workpiece parameters.

Regarding claims 2-19 and 21-32, prior art meets the limitations.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed March 03, 2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The assertion that consisting "essentially" means to exclude the abrasives is not persuasive because Examiner differentiates between "consisting of" and "consisting essentially of" and further in view of claims 19 and 32. However since claims 19 and 32 were rejected in error (Martin et al., col. 5, line 1) this action is not made final.

Art Unit: 3723
